

SUPPLEMENTAL LETTER OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN
FORDHAM UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW AND UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI SUOR ORSOLA BENINCASA

The purpose of this Supplemental Letter of Agreement (SLOA) is to set out the terms and conditions of a tuition discount agreement between the Fordham University, on behalf of the School of Law (Fordham Law School) and Università degli Studi Suor Orsola Benincasa (UNISOB). This SLOA is an integral part of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between Fordham University, and UNISOB.

1. No fees shall be exchanged between the institutional parties to this SLOA.
2. The parties agree that students or recent graduates from the law school at UNISOB may apply to and attend the LL.M. program at Fordham Law School under the following conditions:
 - a. In order to be eligible to study at Fordham Law School under the terms of this SLOA, students must be in their fourth or fifth year of undergraduate law study or in the master of laws program at UNISOB or within two years of graduation from either program (collectively hereinafter referred to as “participating students”).
 - b. Participating students shall receive a tuition discount of twenty percent (20%) off the posted LL.M. tuition. Payment of tuition is the responsibility of each participating student.
 - c. Participating students shall be responsible for the payment of all fees normally charged to LL.M. students. Participating students will also cover all other expenses related to their study at Fordham Law School, including but not limited to international and local travel, food, accommodations, books, student visas, and health insurance.
 - d. UNISOB students/graduates interested in studying at Fordham Law School under the terms of this SLOA shall submit a letter of nomination from the Dean of UNISOB with their application.
 - e. UNISOB shall advise participating students that their stay in the United States shall be subject to the entry and visa regulations of the United States of America and that they shall comply with the regulations and policies of Fordham University and Fordham Law School.
 - f. Participating students are eligible to apply to any of the LL.M. programs offered by Fordham Law School and may begin their studies in the fall semester (August) or the spring semester (January).
 - g. Participating UNISOB students will be eligible to be awarded the LL.M. degree by Fordham Law School upon successful completion of the LL.M. degree requirements and proof of completion of their underlying law degree from UNISOB by submission of an official transcript from UNISOB to Fordham Law School.
3. UNISOB may nominate students each year to take part in the Fordham Law School Summer Institute in New York City. The names of the students nominated will be communicated to Fordham Law School, and such students will complete and submit the online application form. Fordham Law School will waive twenty percent (20%) of the program registration fee associated with this program (not including housing or other expenses beyond the registration fee). The nominated students will remain responsible for all other expenses associated with the program, including but not limited to travel, accommodations, visa, health insurance/health care, food, and entertainment. Fordham Law School reserves the right to cancel this program for any term, or permanently, due to low enrollment.

4. UNISOB may nominate students to take part in the Fordham Law Legal English Institute in New York City for either the fall semester (August-December) or the spring semester (January-May). The names of the students nominated will be communicated to Fordham Law School, and such students will complete and submit the online application form. Fordham Law School will waive twenty percent (20%) of the program fee (not including housing or other expenses beyond the registration fee) for the non-credit option of this program. The nominated students will remain responsible for all other expenses associated with the program, including but not limited to travel, accommodations, visa, health insurance/health care, food, and entertainment. Fordham Law reserves the right to cancel this program for any term, or permanently, due to low enrollment.
5. UNISOB agrees to make this opportunity known to its students and recent graduates through promotion on its webpage and otherwise.
6. Both organizations will appoint an individual to be responsible for coordinating activities under the terms of the SLOA. For Fordham Law School, that person initially is Bernard Daraz, Director, Office of International and Non-J.D. Programs; for UNISOB, those people initially are Prof. Lucilla Gatt, ReCEPL Director (lucilla.gatt@unisob.na.it) and Ufficio Erasmus+ e Internazionale, Dott. Annamaria Iardino (area.internazionalizzazione-erasmus@unisob.na.it).
7. Both organizations acknowledge that any visits by students of one organization to the other will be subject to the entry and visa regulations of the United States of America and UNISOB and that such individuals shall comply with the regulations and policies of Fordham University, Fordham Law School and UNISOB.
8. The parties will review the terms of the SLOA annually to assess the success of the arrangement, and will determine whether to continue, modify or discontinue the SLOA. Either party may terminate this Agreement without cause at any time by giving six (6) months notice in writing to the other party. Regardless of termination, the parties shall continue to fulfill their obligations hereunder until all participants who have commenced the program may complete the term in session at the time of termination or work that is in progress at the time of termination.

9. This SLOA shall take effect when signed by both parties, and will remain in effect for an initial period of five (5) years, unless terminated earlier as described above.
